A RIPPLING STREAM NOW RAGING TORRENT

Industry of Jupiter Pluvius Wrecks Plans of the Populace, the Monongahela Being At One of Highest Stages in Its History

INTERFERES WITH TRAFFIC

Coal Boats And Barges Confined to the Pittsburgh Wharves And Docks Along the River, And May Be Idle Until Lower Stage Permits Resumption

The Monongahela river, by the numerous precipitations of the past few weeks, has been transformed from a rippling stream to a raging torrent. It is now at one of the highest stages known in its history. Local folk, principally people residing at Lock No. 4, or North Charleroi, who have been engaged in "picking" coal contiguous to the river, have had their "piles" inundated, and will have to await the pleasure of the weather man before they remove the "dusky diamonds" to their homes.

River traffic, throughout this entire district, has been virtually at a standstill since Tuesday as a result of the heavy rains of the past few days. When Old Sol does, perchance, make his appearance and people become imbued with the idea that we are to have a "change in the weather," Jupiter Pluvius proceeds to get busy and puts a damper on the hopes and wishes of the populace.

Streams and tributaries to the river are swollen until many of them are at the flood stage, albeit we have heard of no damage accruing to date. The weather is cold this morning, and if Jupiter will behave himself, the river and the streams will gradually subside. We note by today's Pittsburgh papers that the high waters are doing considerable damage in the big city and surrounding boroughs, such as McKees Rocks, et cetera.

Coal boats and barges are confined to the Pittsburgh wharves and docks along the river. It is said that unless it "stops raining," a majority of the larger boats of all coal and freight companies, may be idle for a short time until a lower water stage permits a resumption of river traffic.

Major E. K. Daley, with his assistant, Captain A. C. Larkin, completed the inspection of dams and locks in the Monongahela river a few days ago in pursuance of the government plan for reconstruction and improvement of dams, locks, and harbors in the valley. Preliminary steps in this work were taken only last fall and

FLAMES DESTROY CHURCH INTERIOR

Only a half hour after confessionals had been conducted, fire broke out in the Roman Catholic Church of the Immaculate Conception, corner of Wheeling and Lincoln streets. Washington, about 10 o'clock last night, completely destroying the interior of the edifice.

When erected in 1891, the church cost approximately $50,000 but it could not be replaced today for probably twice that sum. The heavy loss suffered by the congregation will be partially covered by insurance.

While the origin of the flames is not definitely known and never will be, all indications are that the fire was started by crossed electric heating the church and electricity for lighting.

Further evidence that electric wires were probably responsible for the disastrous blaze was the fact that when discovered the flames were burning in the roof and never did eat their way to the main floor.

The interior of the church was completely ruined but the brick walls of the structure apparently were not damaged. They could be

THROWN FROM A HORSE BOY'S LEG IS BROKEN

Everett Christopher, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Beglin of Fredericktown, received a fractured leg Tuesday morning, when the horse which he was riding fell as it made a turn at the bridge near the Porter home, near Fredericktown. A passing motorist assisted the injured boy to the Porter home, where medical aid was immediately given. His condition is reported not serious.

widening of bends and natural harbors in the river were started, but major incident thereto was discontinued until spring, when the work will be rushed to completion.

The treasury department has allotted the sum of $1,528,000, recently appropriated by congress, for improvement of the Monongahela river along its entire course in view of the growing importance of this navigable stream. Many improvements are being made to wharves and tipplers by independent companies and concerns. The additional fleet of boats now in operation on the river point to the great and growing importance of the stream.

DRUGGISTS ACCUSED OF BLUE LAW VIOLATIONS

For the second time within the past two weeks warrants were served yesterday on Elmer J. Kiefer and E. E. Piper, local druggists, by Constable Charles L. Nedetzky, of Donora, accused of violating the Sunday closing law. This is their alleged second offense. Both hearings will be heard this evening before Squire Charles H. Ford of Donora.

Poor So Well Off That Help Unnecessary

Pottsville, Jan. 4 (United Press)—The anthracite coal region is becoming so prosperous, that the Schuylkill county announced their intention of abolishing the office of investigator of the poor.

The county pays $2,000 a year to this official and the poor directors say that his work has fallen off so in recent years that they can attend to it themselves. It used to be that hundreds of families received several dollars a week from county but now most of them refuse charity. Charles Heine, of Girardville, is the investigator.

Immolates Self When Fire Crazy

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 5—(United Press)—A 9-year-old boy was cremated and the lives of eight persons endangered by fire that destroyed a dwelling at Griffin No. 2 mine of the Hecla Coal and Coke company at Masontown, near here, today.

The boy, Tony Rebovich had been, carried from the dwelling uninjured, but upon reaching the street, he broke away from his rescuers and, uttering a shrill cry dashed back into the burning building.

Before another attempt could be made to rescue him, the building collapsed. The origin of the flames is not known.

DRIVER GETS $10 AND COSTS

Ralph Booker, driver for J. W. Johns, the groceryman, was assessed, $10 and costs by Burgess David R. Devall at the conclusion of a hearing which had been continued from the previous evening. The young man, and the fine and costs, amounting to $12. It is said that Mr. Johns refused to pay the fine and costs.

Booker was delivering goods for Johns on New Year's day, and was arrested by the police about the noon hour for exceeding the speed limit.

The hearings of two young men will be had before the Burgess tonight for the alleged blockading of the fire plug at the corner of Eleventh street and Lincoln avenue, at the time of the fire which gutted a local church edifice. Another young man, who lives in Mifflin county, has been notified by Burgess Durall to appear and his fine.

MOTHER TO OPPOSE MOVE TO DECLARE HER SON SANE

Pittsburgh, Jan. 4—(United Press)—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw will oppose any move to have her son, Harry K. Thaw, declared sane, Howard Irish, trustee for Thaw's estate, declared today.

Speaking for Mrs. Thaw, Irish declared Bartholomew Coyne, New York attorney, who is seeking to free Thaw, "does not represent us in any way."

THAW'S ATTORNEY TO NOT MAKE COMMENT

Philadelphia, Jan. 4. —(United Press)—Bartholomew B. Coyne, New York attorney, who is leading the fight to have Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White and former husband of Evelyn Nesbit, declared legally sane, so as to obtain his release from the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental Diseases, will make another attempt to see the prisoner-patient today.

Efforts of Coyne to see Thaw late yesterday were blocked by former Judge James Gay Gordon, counsel for Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, 89-year-old mother of the asylum inmate, and the court of common pleas.

"I will make another attempt to see Mr. Thaw today," Coyne told the United Press. "Until I have seen my client, I have nothing to say, and will not comment on the case."

COLD WEATHER PREVENTS FLOOD

Martins Ferry, Ohio, Jan. 4.—(United Press)—Freezing temperatures have prevented what would otherwise have been another Ohio river flood disaster, river men said here today. The stream at this point stood at 37 feet and observers said it probably would reach 40 feet by Saturday night. No material damage will result from this height, however, although basements in the low lying districts may be filled with water.

Harry Fay Is To Meet Young Stribling Soon

One of the boxers of this district has been selected for a test which is to name Young Stribling, the sensational Georgia schoolboy light-heavyweight fighter, who is just now about the most-talked-of ring-battler in the country.

Harry Fay of Charleroi and McKeppitt, was agreed yesterday to meet Stribling in a 10-round no-decision bout before the Army and Navy Club in Tomlinson hall, Indianapolis, the night of January 21, the weight to be 166 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Captain Wilson, the matchmaker, said in closing the match that he expected to draw the biggest gate on record in Indianapolis. Fay is giving away weight to the Southern sensation, as Harry can do 100 pounds without trouble, but Manager Charley Jones is confident that his Belgian fighter can take care of himself against Stribling even under that handicap and but in Louisville with an opponent says it was such a good opportunity yet to be selected.

Following the Stribling match, Fay will appear in a 10-round main event in Louisville with an opponent yet to be selected.

Children's Pennies Are Helping to Swell The Harding Memorial Fund

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4—Children's pennies are pouring into headquarters of the Harding Memorial Association here to be applied to the nation's monument to the memory of the late President of the United States. Contributions arrived yesterday from an Indian mission school in South Dakota, a girls' private school on the Hudson, many public schools from points all over the country, and a score of Girl and Boy Scout troops. Each day sees hundreds of children's names added to the list of donors.

Many grades and schools will receive the engraved certificates of associate membership in the Harding Memorial Association, sent to children's groups in which every member contributes. The Rose School, Woodson county, Kansas, with a contribution of 50 cents for 17 pupils and the teacher, is typical of public school contributions to the Memorial fund. Children's gifts from Rose School range from one to ten cents. The teacher contributed 18 cents.

Letters from many schools indicate that the certificates of associate membership are to be framed and hung in school rooms.

School children of Clairton, Pa., contributed $77.82 to the Memorial fund. Twenty-five grades made 100 per cent donations.

Gifts from Girl Scout troops are typified in a dollar contribution from Troop 21 of St. Paul, Minn., which was accompanied by a letter from the Scout captain saying: "We would like to make it more, but most of the girls in this troop are from homes where there is very little." One donation was received from a troop of Girl Scouts whose members for the most part were residents of an orphanage.

Many troops of Boy Scouts have made 100 per cent contributions to the fund. Among the latest 100 per cent troops is Troop Nine of West Medford, Mass., with a total contribution of $1.50.

One of the Boy Scout contributors was William M. King, of 726 Wilson Boulevard, Ballston, Va., who is twenty-one years old but a member of the Ballston troop. Mr. King sent a dollar with the request that he be enrolled as an associate member of the Harding Memorial Association.

Boys and girls of the Welsh Presbyterian Sunday School of Olyphant, Pa., sent $1.65, with the explanation that their Sunday School is one of the smallest in Olyphant and their wishes for the success of the Harding Memorial Campaign were larger than their donation. Thomas F. Wheeler, of 50 Park Place, New York city, made a dollar contribution for every member of his family, from the 88-year-old great

ONCE BANISHED, A PREMIER RETURNS

ATHENS, Jan. 4.—(United Press)—Former Premier Eleutheros Venizelos returned today to the country that once banished him.

Along the same road which he traversed, guarded by armed followers, when he departed from Greece in 1920, Venizelos came back to Athens in triumph.

In his first statement after his arrival, the former Premier said: "I will remain until a solution that is based upon the will of the nation has been reached."

Members Will Review And Close Up Business As Relates to 1923—An Announcement, the Contract With West Penn Company

REGULAR MEETING MONDAY

At This Time Reorganization Will Take Place By The Election of a President And Secretary, Chief of Police, And Other Minions

Charleroi council meets in called session this evening to close up the business incident to 1923. The year was prolific of considerable effort on the part of the membership to conserve and promote the interests of their constituents, and was not without its accomplishments, chief among which, probably, was the entering into and the signing of the contract with the West Penn Power company. We believe this renewal of the contract with the company was for a period of five years. It may be that there are details to be worked out with the company, and if so, they may be considered and acted upon at the meeting tonight.

Monday council will meet in regular monthly session, and formally reorganize by the election of a president, a borough secretary, and during the meeting council will go into executive session, doubtless, and elect the various committees. The election of a chief of police, and other minions will probably devolve the attention of the body.

During the year just closed, council did considerable streets and alleys improvement work, and this spring and summer will doubtless see labor incident thereto completed; besides more and better sidewalks may appear through the action of council. It is its purpose to improve by paving, grading and curbing numerous streets and alleys in the borough, with particular attention to the hill district.

Miss Rita A. Criste will begin classes in aesthetic, interpretive and folk dancing on Saturday, January fifth, at the Elks club. The class for children from four to twelve years of age will meet at 10 a. m., for all over twelve years at 9 a. m. The rates are six dollars for a term of twelve lessons. For further information, call Charleroi 520-R, between 5 p. m. and 6 p. m. 1772t

THREE RIVERS MAY INUNDATE TOWNS

Cleveland, Jan. 4—(United Press)—The Ohio, Allegheny, and Monongahela rivers, swollen by heavy rains and snows in the last few days, were rushing along with terrific force today, threatening inundation of dozens of cities and towns in southern Ohio, northern Kentucky, and Western Pennsylvania.

At points along the Ohio river, thousands anxiously watched the rising waters and prepared to remove their belongings from danger.

William C. Devereaux, United States meteorologist, predicted flood conditions along the Ohio at Cincinnati today when the river reaches 24

27 FEET AT THE POINT BRIDGE

Pittsburgh, January 4. — (United Press).—Flood waters of the Ohio Monongahela, and Allegheny rivers reached danger stage today, inundating homes of families along the lowlands of McKees Rocks, McKeesport and the Northside.

A stage of 27 feet was reached at the Point bridge at 7 a. m., the highest since the flood of 1913.

The three rivers are rising at the rate of seven inches an hour and the weather bureau here predicted a stage of 29 feet by noon today. The highest in 1913 was 30.4 feet.

Basements of buildings north of Penn avenue from Ninth street to Point bridge were filled with water. Merchants in this zone had employees working all night removing goods before it became water-soaked.

Police boats were kept busy hauling food and coal to residents along the river front, who chose to move to the second floors rather than vacate. Shiffs and rowboats were also put to use to take male members of these families to and from their work.

At McKeesport, where the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers suffered somewhat from the high water, but the flood was not severe enough to force total suspension. Only a few departments were closed down temporarily.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad freight station on the north side of the Allegheny river had ten feet of water on its trucks, but there was no damage to freight stuffs as most of this had been removed to upper floors.

The cold weather that prevailed here today will aid materially in causing the waters to recede rapidly after they have reached their crest, the weather bureau declared.

She Was Progressing.

At the "Pageant of Progress" with my husband and another couple we reached the auto section. The men became interested. The other woman and I became impatient, so walked on. Then I walked up to my husband. I turned around and beckoned for my friend to come back. In that second my husband must have moved to look at another car. Grabbing a man's arm I said: "What are you trying to do, make people think you are going to buy a car?" The man was not my husband.—Detroit News.

Happy Men.

I had been working in my garden. The sun was just below the horizon and the dew was already on the smooth green walks bordered by sweet-smelling roses and carnations. The stillness of the evening was broken only by the whistling of a blackbird. I sat down on a rude seat I had formed beneath an old tree, and, as I thought of the fruits and plants that were ripening around me, I exclaimed to myself, "How happy if they knew it, are they that till the ground."—William Barnes.

Sweet Talk at a Discount.

"Warmth and softness will never melt a girl's heart," sighed the young man who had tried to make an impression on a girl by saying sweet things. "I should say not," replied the fellow who had been jilted. "It is hardness and coldness that melt their hearts—diamonds and ice cream."—London Tit-Bits.

Applied Scripture.

"Um mighty thirsty, pa," said the farmer's boy, as he paused a moment in his hoeing. "Well, keep on and never mind about that," answered the horny-handed son of toil. "Remember the good book says, 'Ho, every one that thirsteth.'"—New Haven Register.

Pancake Tuesday.

An interesting old custom prevails at Newberry, England, every Shrove Tuesday. The church bell rings and a crowd of youngsters assemble at the foot of the church tower. When the bell ceases a shower of parcels containing pancakes is thrown from the tower. Down below there is a rushing and a scrambling. The strongest and sturdiest secure the prizes. All the parcels disappear, even those lodged in the trees. It is a merry crowd for a few moments. In the great hall of Westminster school, near the abbey, there is a similar scene. The school cook tosses a pancake over the roof beams and the boys scramble for it. Pancake day is probably a reminder of the cakes baked in the coals for Elijah by the angel before his forty-day travel to and fast at Sinai.

SCIENTISTS TO DEDICATE CHURCH

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, will be dedicated at the county seat next Sunday at 11:15 a. m.

In keeping with the doctrine of the church, there will be little formality and no ostentation in connection with the service. The only added feature will be the reading of a short story of the history of the congregation and singing by Miss Ethyl Hayden, Washington's talented soloist, who has attracted wide attention in musical circles by the ability she has displayed at concerts in New York and other leading musical centers.

The church, which is to be dedicated as the First Church of Christ Scientist, of Washington, was formerly the place of worship of the First Evangelical Lutheran congregation and was purchased by the Christian Scientists of Washington in November of 1919.

It is provided in the rules of Christian Science government that no church of this denomination shall be dedicated until all indebtedness shall have been fully met. The Washington congregation has successfully met all financial obligations.

BELIEVE MEN ARE BURIED IN DEBRIS

BULLETIN.

Pekin, Illinois, January 4.—(United Press).—Mammoth cranes and hundreds of men with picks, crowbars, and shovels, hatched and strained today at the ice sheathed ruins of the dry starch plant of the Corn Products Company here in the belief that bodies of many of the men who are reported missing since yesterday's explosion, are buried in the debris.

Police Chief McGuire early today said that his count of the recovered dead totals eight. This figure is unofficial.

The missing number 20, Corn ducts officials estimated.

Through the eight-foot wire fence that encloses the plant, scores of relatives of the missing maintained an all-night vigil. The cold was intense, but the grief-stricken watchers appeared to be indifferent to suffering.

Colors of Mourning Vary.

The colors used as badges of mourning vary in different countries. In this country, as in Europe, the ordinary color for mourning is black. In China, as with the ancient Spartan and Roman ladies, it is white; in Turkey it is blue or violet; in Egypt yellow; in Ethiopia, gray. Some have attempted to trace the associations which caused the adoption of the various colors to natural causes. Thus black, which is the privation of light, is supposed very appropriately to denote the privation of life; white is an emblem of purity; yellow is the color of leaves when they fall, and signifies that death is the end of all human hopes. In the East, to cut the hair was considered a sign of bereavement; among the Romans, on the contrary, it was deemed a mark of sorrow to let it grow.

Lombardy's Iron Crown.

Among the treasures of the king of Italy is a historical relic of almost unparalleled interest. This is the famous iron crown of Lombardy, one of the most precious heirlooms of the Italian royal house. The crown is made partially of iron. Tradition declares that it was made from one of the nails used at the crucifixion. This was beaten out into a thin rim of iron, which was set in gold and adorned with jewels. Pope Gregory bestowed it upon Queen Theodolinda, under whom the Lombards first changed their Arian faith for the Catholic. Charlemagne was crowned with it, and so were Henry of Luxembourg and succeeding emperors. It was also used at the coronation of Napoleon I. The emperor of Austria restored it to the king of Italy in 1805.—Tit-Bits.

Defining Its Status.

Senator James W. Wadsworth of New York tells this story in the New York Herald: "Some years ago the army appropriation bill carried a rider providing for the retirement, with full pay, of a certain brigadier-general. The rider was opposed by some members of the senate, chiefly because it was special legislation. It caused considerable discussion.

"Hoke Smith, then in the senate from Georgia, finally made a point of order against the rider.

"Thomas R. Marshall, who was vice president, was in the chair and asked Senator Smith to state the point of order.

"It is general legislation," Senator Smith declared.

"Overruled," snapped Vice President Marshall; "it is brigadier-general legislation."

Radio Crooks' Nemesis.

The installation of radio receiving apparatus by police departments of various cities is gradually forming a network of communication that will factor in the apprehension of law-breakers. The more important points on the border of the United States, Canada and Mexico are now well linked by the new means of communication.

French Radio Regulations.

A decree of the French government provides that each owner of a receiving set shall pay 10 francs as an annual fee, keep secret all intercepted messages and cease operations when the government so instructs.

HOTELS TAKE PART IN REFERENDUM

Travelers will not be prevented from voting in the "referendum" on the American Peace Award, beginning January 7, because of any election laws forbidding absentee voting. Thousands of hotels throughout the country varying from the largest metropolitan hotels to village inns, are giving travelers an opportunity to vote wherever they are. This week orders have been coming rapidly to the offices of the Peace Award at 342 Madison Avenue from hotels all over the country. Hundreds of thousands have been ordered by hotel managers for their clients, with at least one ballot box for every hotel and in many cases at least an additional ballot box for the employees of the hotel.

Among the hotels that have written to the office of the Award that they wish definitely to participate in the "referendum" and to give their guests and employees a chance to vote by having ballot boxes and the copies of the plan in the lobby and on the desk, are: The Hotel Gotham, New York City; the Ritz-Carlton, Philadelphia; the Penn Hotel, New York, Pa.; the Stacy-Trent, Trenton, N. J.; the Ten Eyck, Albany, N. Y.; the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago; the Hotel Margaret, Brooklyn; the Majestic, New York City; the Hotel des Artistes, N. Y. C.; the Bellevue-Gala, Syracuse, N. Y.; the Robert Treat, Newark, N. J.; the Utica, Utica, N. Y.; the Brevoort, N. Y. C.; the Savoy, Kansas City; Hotel Touraine, Boston; Hampton Court, Brookline, Beacon Chambers, Boston; Hotel Schenley, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Hotel Vendome, Boston; Murray Hill Hotel, N. Y. C.; The Breakers, Palm Beach; Walters Park Inn, Wernersville, Pa., and many others.

The matter of participation in the "referendum" was commended to the hotels in a letter from General Kincaid of the United Hotels Company. "It is a pleasure for the United Hotels Company to cooperate with the American Peace Award in conducting a popular referendum on the successful peace plan. I believe (and Mr. Dudley, President of the American Hotel Association agrees with me) that the hotels of the country, occupying as they do an unique position in respect to the public, should more largely participate in movements of this kind, which have as their aim the advancement of the public good. Perhaps no other industry, excepting only the newspapers and the theaters, so closely maintains intimate and influential contact with the public, and it is very gratifying to us to feel that the public has confidence in us and in our purpose.

"J. LESLIE KINCAID,
"Vice-President"

NO LEVEL STREETS IN CITY

Hundreds of Thousands of Chinese Live in Narrowest of Rooms in Chungking.

Hundreds of thousands of human beings live in Chungking (on the upper part of the Yangtze river, in China), in the very narrowest of rooms. There are no level streets because of the hilly character of the country, and instead of streets, thousands of steps lead up hill and down dale. Moreover, many of the business streets are so narrow that two litters can hardly squeeze past one another.

The number of water carriers is legion. Chungking has not yet attained to a water system. The water for the daily use of the inhabitants is drawn in buckets from the Yangtze and the tributary Kiating, and is peddled to the householders by coolies.

Here even the poorest beggar is saved from hunger. Every beggar, man or woman, has a specialty designed to arouse the maximum of sympathy in the passer-by.

Where Do You Taste.

If asked what part of the body you taste with, you might answer: "With the mouth." But try an experiment. Put a fragment of salt into your mouth, placing it between the teeth and the cheek. Until it dissolves it has absolutely no taste at all.

The fact is that the sides of the mouth are insensible to certain substances which have an aromatic taste, such as spices and coffee and wine, can only be appreciated by the front half of the tongue.

A piece of sugar applied to the tip of the tongue tastes extremely sweet. Try it on the back of the tongue, and it is almost tasteless.

With many other foods the case is reversed, and it is the back part of the tongue and the mouth in which they are properly appreciated. A few experiments will prove to you that taste is strangely localized in the mouth.

ACTRESS MAKES WOMAN SACRIFICE

If you were a beautiful young woman—

If your wealth of curly blonde hair was the envy of every feminine—

If you were not in financial need— And if you were called upon to name a price to have your hair cut off—

How much would you demand? Anna Q. Nilsson, famed motion picture actress, asked $9,500.

And that price was paid to the fair Anna by Sam E. Rork, producer of "Ponjola," a First National picture.

"Ponjola" will be shown at the Majestic Theatre, next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Mahieu's Bed Rock Prices

In naming bed rock prices, we aim to help the careful housekeeper to reduce to a possible extent the abnormal cost of living. The prices named are the same to all, often below Pittsburgh Wholesale prices, and seldom above. A careful comparison will prove the aggregate saving will amount to quite a considerable sum.

COUNCIL'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

Council meets this evening to review and conclude the business of the borough, in which it is the elected custodians, as relates to the year 1923. Reorganization of the body will be effected at the regular meeting
next Monday night.

The body did well, and during the last semester, in particular, some really creditable work for the borough and in the interests of its constituents, was accomplished. The membership was instrumental in streets improvement work, with more of this kind of labor in prospect and to develop its attention during 1924; but the most important and creditable piece of legislation done, was the signing of the contract and closing of the agreement with the West Penn Power Company, by which, during the year, the people of the borough are to see the installation of the White Way system. This system may cost the taxpayers a little more money, but once installed, there is little doubt but that they will be nearly unanimous in declaring that the extra cost provided in an improved lighting system for the business streets of the borough, was warranted.

Another feature is, that during the first 18 months, the business men of the borough will pay the costs accruing, the installation of the system being made free of charge by the West Penn Power Company.

SHOULD HAVE ESCORTS.

Women and girls of Charlottesville and North Charlottesville—indeed, women and girls of this community, should have escorts when they emerge from their homes to attend the movies or social functions in this vicinity, as developments of late demonstrate. In less than 10 days, two young ladies, one of the borough, and the other a North Charlottesville young girl, were the victims of attacks, a colored man being the assailant in one instance, and two white men, in the other. Fortunately, the victims of the attacks escaped uninjured.

The attack on the girl in Charlottesville was made within a stone's throw of the Municipal building at 7 o'clock in the morning, and the girl escaped because she struggled with her assailant, and her screams frightened the man from the scene. In the other case, we are informed that the young lady escaped by making a run of it,
when one of the men placed his hand
on her arm.

Young ladies, girls of tender years, and married women should not be seen upon the streets either in the early evening or late at night, unaccompanied by their male friends, or relatives. This valley, liken unto all river towns, with manufacturing and mill proclivities, contains more or less of a floating population—both white men and colored. It is well to look upon the majority of these fellows with suspicion. Their cast of countenance is usually a true index of their character. It is proper, too, that the minions of the law arrest all men of suspicious character—floaters who cannot give a good account of themselves, and when they are arrested, deport them from the community. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty and happiness in the premises.

Parents have great responsibility in the rearing of their children, especially girls, and they should know where they are at night, and be assured if they are away from home that they are in reputable and safe company. There is too much of a laxity in this regard in homes of the community. The strong hand of discipline is needed as well in the cases of boys. It is well for old and young, however, to take the greatest precaution when visiting places of amusement or the theatres, parties, et cetera, at night. They should be assured that their safety in reaching their homes unmoistened is guaranteed.

START THE YEAR RIGHT.

In this the beginning of a new year,
it behooves us as residents of Charlottesville to start the year right.

This starting of the new year right,
and holding to the right with tenacity and inflexibility of purpose, should be among the sole aims and purpose of all, not merely as American citizens, but as boosters for our town and community interests.

Let us have a good word for Charllottesville, and let us have it up and lows from eating soup with a knife is doing, working for the interests of the borough, and the community which it represents. We must do nothing which will have a tendency to destroy, but rather let us strive to do these things which will upbuild.

The year 1924 promises much for all lines which will mean for her material welfare, will mean alike progress for the surrounding community. Charlottesville will doubtless enjoy the White Way lighting system ere the year's close; many borough's streets and alleys will probably undergo improvement, and it is to be hoped that the playgrounds, promised us for last year, will be a realization in 1924.

There will probably be more or less building in Charlottesville; business interests promise to take on activity in the various pursuits, manufacturing, mercantile, et cetera, and it is for us to lend our aid and encouragement as boosters in anything and everything which will make a bigger and better Charlottesville.

Let us be of the constructive, progressive, turn of mind, not retrogressive, where our community and personal interests are concerned.

PASS IT ON.

If you have a good umbrella,
Pass it on.
Isn't yours, you know full well,
Pass it on.
If you know just where you got it,
From your recollection blot it;
Some wet day the owner'll spot it.
Pass it on.

—Atlanta Journal.

If you know a kind word,
Pass it on.
Give it wings like a little bird,
Pass it on.
Everyone likes a little praise,
Someone's spirit it will raise,
And help to shorten those long old days,
Pass it on.

but a tramp always has a two days'
growth.

Snappy advertising can bring customers to a store almost if not quite as fast as a snippy clerk can drive them away.

If you've ever spent a few days in a hotel, you have probably had occasion to remark how noisily fools rush in when angels (that is, the self-righteous and sleepy ones, like yourself) have got to bed.

A KITCHEN CALAMITY.

The fire died in the kitchen range and an investigation as to the cause of her death was started.

Did the stove poker?
Did the coal hanger?
Did the lawn mower?
Did the meat grinder?
Did the biscuit cutter?
Some one asked: Where has the coal bin?

"I simply can't keep my son in check," groaned the father as he filled in the spaces for another fifty.

"Mamma," said the little boy, who had been sent to dry a towel before the fire, "is it done when it is brown?"

quent subscribers to an annual roundup.

A bit of goose grease saved Mary Sullivan from the penitentiary. She was brought in federal court here on a charge of sending spirituous liquors through the mails, the postal authorities having seized a package sent by her to a son-in-law in Gary, Indiana.

The bottle apprehended by the post office contained liquor, all right, but with it was mixed a quantity of goose grease. Mrs. Sullivan explained to Judge Gibson that her son-in-law wrote saying his wife was sick and she had prepared the whisky and goose grease mixture expressly for her daughter's illness.

The letter she had sent with the package containing instructions how to use the mixture was read to the court, and Judge Gibson let the woman off with a light fine.
